

Senior ETF Writer/Analyst

Reference:	SEWA-FTE-2021
Starting Date:	January 2021
Employment Type:	Full-time (Monday to Friday)
Seniority Level:	Mid-Senior level

We are looking for a Senior ETF Writer/Analyst to join our Expertise team.

This is an exceptional opportunity for candidates to join a challenging high-growth environment and work alongside experts in the industry.

Our Company

TrackInsight operates a unique global platform dedicated to ETF search, analysis and selection aimed at professional investors. With over 120,000 unique users and 9,000 qualified professional investors using the platform for their day-to-day ETF screening, TrackInsight is recognized as the leading source of independent and reliable information on over 6,200 Exchange Traded Funds listed globally.

Your Responsibilities

As a Senior ETF Writer/Analyst, you will work closely with the Expertise team to generate, develop, and illustrate data-driven stories on the ETF industry. You will also take part in writing educational material, market commentary and industry research.

Typical tasks of an analyst include, amongst others:

- Analyzing ETF data to develop data-driven stories
- Write content across a wide range of contexts, including educational material, market commentary and industry research
- Contact key players in the industry to get quotes

What you need to succeed

We are looking for candidates with 2-5 years of work experience and an affinity with the asset management industry. You possess sound analysis and writing skills, and you are a true team player.

Check your profile:

- 2-5 years of work experience, preferably with an economic or financial academic background
- Proven affinity with financial markets and the ETF industry
- A firm grasp of the English language and its grammar
- An ability to write clearly about a variety of complex concepts to make them easy to understand
- An ability to create charts and graphs that illustrate and clarify the topics you are writing about
- Experienced user of Excel, Word and PowerPoint
- Team player

Application Process

Enthusiastic? Please upload your CV and motivation letter by clicking the "Apply" button or send us an email at careers@trackinsight.com. We are looking forward to meeting you!

What we offer

To ensure talent grows and stays at TrackInsight, we provide our employees with a competitive salary, a working environment using the latest technology, and professional training opportunities.